

WALKER'S STORE.

THE ANNUAL LINEN SALE FOR THE THANKSGIVING TIME.

The Thanksgiving dinner is the housewife's chiefest thought just now, and plans for the table must be consummated within the coming week. After settling of the linen question, though, the rest is generally easy and the Walker Store never fails to come forward with helps for that by a supply of most perfect kinds at savings wholly unusual to such qualities. That we import from the world's best weavers is known to all women hereabout whose pride is in "fine linens," so we'll skip elaboration of the fact and simply tell you there has been a lavish culling of the very best in stock to go into this sale—and at underprices, too, that would shock those staid, old-world makers who look upon cut cost as veriest indignity for their wares. Sale begins Monday, but all these lots may not last the week through, others, however, will take their places.

$80.00 Banquet Cloths for—$35.00.

This is a rare chance to possess a cloth that cannot be bought ordinarily, must be woven to order. Exquisite linen, every thread flax, snowy white, choice in pattern designs; four yards square and sold at $80.00, which isn't very much more than the maker asked, but only a few here, so—$35.00.

Sets, Napkins, Linens by the yard.

Some beautiful 3-yard cloths, bordered all around, twenty-four-inch napkins to match if you wish, rich damask, made by J. S. Brown & Sons of Belfast, Ireland, and some other best makers, up to $16.00 each kind in the group, all—$10.00 each. Handsome sets, cloth and napkins, perfect linen, sold regularly at $8.50 the set, now—$6.50. German line cloths, 2 1/2 x 3 yards, bordered all around, a small lot only, hence for a quick clearance reduced from $7.50 each to—$3.25. Twenty pieces of finest table linen, beautifully white and choice in every way at these remarkable reductions—the $2.25 and $2.50 a yard for—$2.00; the $1.65 and $1.75 for—$1.50.

Entire Stock of Separate Skirts at Third Off Prices.

If we could give individual mention to each skirt, set its regular price and reduced one opposite, the entire stock would be quickly cleared away; so good sounding would be description as compared with small cost. Can't be done, though, space never permits that; only generalities may be given with a trust that you already know this stock. There are long lines of black taffeta and peau de soie silks in all the new styles and ways of making for this season, handsome zibelines, chevrons, coverts and others in black and all colors, train lengths, besides the splendid lots of walking skirts. Following price list gives idea of the generous savings for Monday and the week—
